Arrival at Funchal Airport and Private transfer will take you to your hotel in the city center of Funchal

Funchal

Funchal is a city full of parallel streets decorated with patterned cobblestones, stretching at the foot of a mountain overlooking the sea. It is the capital of Madeira. The first thing we can do is go up to Monte, the upper part of the city. Locals say that Emperor Charles I of Austria was exiled to Monte during World War I. As you can imagine, this place is rich in history. On this day, you can still see the remains of the old railway, which had to be dismantled during the Nazi era so that the steel could be used for the war. One of the must-see places in Monte is the Tropical Palace, a dream garden full of exotic plants and trees. When you enter, you will feel like you are in a tropical forest. Another place you shouldn't miss is the Church of Nossa Senhora do Monte, located 598 meters above sea level, where the tomb of Charles I of Austria is found.

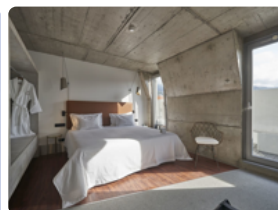

Check in at Hotel Caju Le Petit Hotel

Hotel Caju offers a restaurant and a bar in Funchal, less than 1 km from Almirante Reis Beach and a 6-minute walk from Funchal Marina. This 4-star hotel features a fitness center and offers air-conditioned rooms with free Wi-Fi and a private bathroom. Cabo Girão is 13 km away, and the traditional houses of Santana are 39 km from the hotel.

The accommodations at the hotel are equipped with a kettle. Each room has a flat-screen TV, and some rooms at Hotel Caju include a balcony.

Popular nearby attractions include Avenida del Mar, Funchal Cathedral, and São Tiago Fortress. Cristiano Ronaldo Madeira International Airport is 20 km away, and the property offers a paid shuttle service to the airport.

September 11 - Day 2 - Funchal

Funchal (Immerse Yourself in Culture and Gastronomy)

Today is our second day in Funchal, and it's time to indulge in the culture and gastronomy.

If you feel like taking a swim, you can also bathe in the Lido pools in Funchal, which are made from the volcanic rock of the region. And of course, on this day we will enjoy the most authentic local cuisine. If you haven't yet tried the incredible wine of the island, you have the opportunity in Funchal to visit the Blandy's Wine Cellars, the oldest on Madeira. They are located in an old monastery, so you can imagine what awaits you there. Tradition and modernity blend without losing the most authentic flavor of the region. Here, you can taste wines made from up to 30 different grape varieties.

Besuch Blandys - Madeira Wein Besuch Blandys (Suggestion)

The Blandy family is the only family of the original founders of the Madeira Wine Association that still owns and runs its own wine company.

Throughout its long history on the island, the family has played a leading role in the development of Madeira wine, and family members continue to live on the island, upholding a tradition that dates back to 1811: two centuries of making fortified wine.

Porto Santo

Porto Santo is an island in the Madeira archipelago in Portugal. This small island, often called the "Golden Island," is famous for its long beaches with fine golden sand stretching over about nine kilometers, and for the clear, warm waters of the Atlantic. I will provide you with a detailed description of Porto Santo:

Geography

Porto Santo lies about 43 kilometers northeast of the island of Madeira. The island covers an area of approximately 42.48 km² and features gentler and less mountainous terrain than Madeira. The highest point on the island is Pico do Facho, with an elevation of 517 meters.

Climate

The climate on Porto Santo is semi-arid and subtropical, with hot, dry summers and mild, slightly humid winters. The average annual temperature is around 19°C, making the island an ideal year-round travel destination.

History

Porto Santo was discovered in 1418 by Portuguese navigators led by João Gonçalves Zarco and Tristão Vaz Teixeira. It was the first island of the Madeira archipelago to be discovered and colonized. The island has a rich history as it served as a strategic point during the Portuguese Age of Discoveries

The trail begins behind Pico Castelo and near Pico do Facho, the highest point on the island at 517 meters. We start on the Moledo path, which circles around Pico do Facho. This flat trail offers a 360° panoramic view of the island and leads back to the starting point.

Next, we take the path to Pico Castelo on the north side, ascending in zigzags to the summit of this peak at about 438 meters, the fourth highest on the island. Here, there is a reconstruction of a small fortress from the 17th century, originally built to protect the population from the then frequent pirate attacks. From this spot, you get another excellent view over the southern part of the island.

Monte Palace Madeira - Tropical Garden

The Monte Palace Madeira Garden is located on a hilltop with a breathtaking view of the Funchal Bay and is one of the most unique places on the island of Madeira, distinguished by its exotic flora and the art that surrounds it.

Its history dates back to the 18th century when Charles Murray, an English consul, purchased the land south of the Church of Monte and transformed it into an estate. In 1897, it was bought by Alfredo Guilherme Rodrigues, who built a palace-like residence here, which was later converted into a hotel named the "Monte Palace Hotel."

Today, the Monte Palace Madeira Garden consists of around 100,000 plant species from all over the world. From this vast collection, which spans 70,000 m², the century-old palm ferns (Cycads) stand out, considered living fossils.

Visitors are also surprised by the ornaments that decorate the different areas between the dense vegetation and the lakes. This space displays stone works from various eras and countries, various Buddhist sculptures, stone lanterns, and a famous collection of tiles (15th to 20th century). Additionally, the Monte Palace Madeira Garden is home to a rich wildlife, including majestic swans, peacocks, and Asian koi fish.
